

Scottish Human Rights Commission

Strategic Plan Survey

The Commission is developing its Strategic Plan for 2024 – 2028

We're asking for information to create this plan

To help us set our priorities and improve how we work we want to hear from people and organisations from across Scotland

This document is to give you more details about the Commission before you complete the survey

What is the Scottish Human Rights Commission?

The Scottish Human Rights Commission is Scotland's National Human Rights Institution

The Scottish Human Rights Commission is an independent public body

This means we do not work for the government or any other organisation

Scottish Commission for Human Rights Act 2006
2006 asp 16

The Scottish Commission for Human Rights Act 2006 is a law that says what the Commission should do

This means we can

Recommend changes to law policy and practice

Promote awareness of rights through education, training and publishing research

Protect rights through inquiries into the policies and practices of Scottish public authorities
